Command And Control Support Syst In Gulf War:

Command & Control Support Systems in the Gulf War M. A. Rice,1994-07-01 Times of the Technoculture Kevin Robins, Frank Webster,2003-09-02 Times of the Technoculture explores the social and cultural impact of new technologies tracing the origins of the information society from the coming of the machine with the industrial revolution to the development of mass production techniques in the early twentieth century The authors look at how the military has controlled the development of the information society and consider the centrality of education in government attempts to create a knowledge society Engaging in contemporary debates surrounding the internet Robins and Webster question whether it can really offer us a new world of virtual communities and suggest more radical alternatives to the corporate agenda of contemporary technologies Managing Command and Control in the Persian Gulf War Thomas C. Hone, Mark D. Mandeles, Sanford S. Terry,1996-09-24 During Desert Shield the Air Force built a very complicated organizational architecture to control large numbers of air sorties During the air campaign itself officers at each level of the Central Command Air Forces believed they were managing the chaos of war Yet when the activities of the many significant participants are pieced together it appears that neither the planners nor Lt Gen Charles A Horner the Joint Force Air Component Commander knew the details of what was happening in the air campaign or how well the campaign was going There was little appreciation of the implications of complex organizational architectures for military command and control Against a smarter and more aggressive foe the system may well have failed Weapon Systems ,2002 Signal ,1993 Command and Control M.
