Muntadas, Marc Augé, 2005 Den spanske multikunstner Antonio Muntadas f 1942 v rker har siden 1971 omfattet videokunst installationskunst og aktioner i det offentlige rum Mange af hans arbejder besk ftiger sig med de usynlige mekanismer som translation* Antoni Muntadas, 2010-04 In a year when Spanish curators directed the Venice Biennale for the first time Antoni Muntadas representing Spain in the Spanish pavilion told a reporter that the Biennale takes its ideas from international fairs It connotes the theme park There was exoticism invention the new but by now it is an obsolete structure Muntadas s On Translation I Giardini the latest in a series of often site specific On Translation projects completed over the last 10 years is here documented from its inception Translation is a metaphor as Muntadas states I am not talking about translation in a literal sense but in a cultural sense how the world we live in is a totally translated world everything is always filtered by some social political cultural and economic factor by the media of course by context and by history Accordingly I Giardini looks into the context and history of the Biennale s Giardini del Castello delving into the transformations and translations it has undergone over time and investigating Venice s status and the space that frames the Biennale Muntadas notes for instance that a new Italian pavilion built on Mussolini s orders was replaced again after the war Muntadas Debra Bricker Balken, Muntadas, Bill Horrigan, 1994 Antoni Muntadas: Activating Artifacts Niels Van Tomme, 2017-02 Featuring a visual essay by Spanish multimedia artist Antoni Muntadas born 1942 Activating Artifacts focuses on recent developments within higher education exploring the work of Muntadas as a learning tool Muntadas Muntadas, 1984 Language and

Zimbabwe Cyprus Malaysia Quebec Ireland France Scotland the US and Italy outline a pragmatics of language and translation of value to scholars with an interest in the changing forms of literature and culture in our times Essay topics include multilingual textual politics the benefits of multilingual education in postcolonial countries the language of gender and sexuality in postcolonial literatures translational cities postcolonial calligraphy globalization and the new digital ecology with archival materials practices and methodologies throughout history from the avant garde movements of the early 20th century to contemporary artistic practices She explores the ways in which artists have appropriated transformed and recontextualized archival documents and narratives to create new meanings and perspectives on history memory and identity Guasch also discusses the role of the archive in shaping artistic production reception and historiography highlighting its significance as a site of cultural memory and knowledge production Through a series of case studies and theoretical reflections the book offers insights into the diverse ways in which artists have navigated the archive as a source of inspiration critique and intervention in the artistic process Art and Archive represents an archaeological and genealogical history of the relationships sometimes linear sometimes discontinuous between art and the archive The archive ceases to be a dusty space or a repository of historical artifacts to become an active discursive and relational system that establishes aesthetically socially and politically new relationships of temporality between past present and future in what is understood as the time of the future perfect

The Global Work of Art Caroline A. Jones, 2017-06-01 Global biennials have proliferated in the contemporary art world but artists engagement with large scale international exhibitions has a much longer history that has influenced the present in important ways Going back to the earliest world's fairs in the nineteenth century this book argues that globalism was incubated in a century of international art contests and today constitutes an important tactic for artists As world's fairs brought millions of attendees into contact with foreign cultures products and processes artworks became juxtaposed in a theater of nations which challenged artists and critics to think outside their local academies From Gustave Courbet's rebel pavilion near the official art exhibit at the 1855 French World's Fair to curator Beryl Madra's choice of London based Cypriot Hussein Chalayan for the off site Turkish pavilion at the 2006 Venice Biennale artists have used these exhibitions to reflect on contemporary art speak to their own governments back home and challenge the wider geopolitical realm changing art and art history along the way Ultimately Caroline A Jones argues the modern appetite for experience and event structures which were cultivated around the art at these earlier expositions have now come to constitute contemporary art itself producing encounters that transform the public and force us to reflect critically on the global condition

Art vs. TV Francesco Spampinato, 2021-12-02 While highlighting the prevailing role of television in Western societies Art vs TV maps and condenses a comprehensive history of the relationships of art and television With a particular focus on the link between reality and representation Francesco Spampinato analyzes video art works installations performances interventions and television programs made by contemporary artists as forms of resistance to and appropriation and parody of mainstream television The artists discussed belong to different generations those that emerged in the 1960s in association with art movements such as Pop Art Fluxus and Happening and those appearing on the scene in the 1980s whose work aimed at deconstructing media representation in line with postmodernist theories to those arriving in the 2000s an era in which through reality shows and the Internet anybody could potentially become a media personality and finally those active in the 2010s whose work reflects on how old media like television has definitively vaporized through the electronic highways of cyberspace These works and phenomena elicit a tension between art and television exposing an incongruence an impossibility not only to converge but at the very least to open up a dialogical exchange
