Earthfast, the Dawn of a New World Richard Thornton, 2014-05-17 Earthfast is the culmination of a lifetime of architectural practice and seven years of concentrated research. The journey began when archeologists at the American Museum of Natural History asked Richard to prepare architectural drawings of the Mission Santa Catalina de Guale on St. Catherines Island, GA. One discovery led to another. A big black hole in American history was filled by reading dozens of obscure 16th and 17th century books plus visiting many archaeological sites. Being Creek Indian, Richard was able to discern evidence from passages on Native Americans that were missed by earlier scholars. This is the first book to comprehensively examine the architecture and planning practices of the early French, Spanish, and English colonies. It is unique. Richard Thornton is a professional Architect, City Planner, with degrees from Georgia Tech and Georgia State University. He is the national Architecture columnist for the Examiner and appeared on the premier of the History Channel's America Unearthed.

Handbook of the American Frontier, The Southeastern Woodlands Joseph Norman Heard, 1987. A first reference that provides insights into both sides of Indian-white relations. Volume I covers events in the Southeastern Woodlands. Subsequent volumes will cover the Northeastern Woodlands, the Great Plains, and the Far West. Heard approaches h

Florida Almanac, 2012 Bernie McGovern, 2012-04-23. An amazing atlas, directory, tourist guide, reference manual, and history book all in one for natives, visitors, and new residents in the Sunshine State. From basic history and tourist information to obscure facts such as the size of the largest squash grown, this book has it all. After reading the list of derivatives for the name of each Florida county, the Lake City Reporter called a previous edition of this book indispensable and described it as containing just about everything you ever wanted to know about Florida and a good deal of information you probably never really thought about. In addition to listings of national memorials, monuments, and landmarks, this volume contains road maps of each county, charts of rivers and waterways, and facts about Florida's geography and climate. For those who are visiting the state, there are sections on major attractions, annual festivals, state parks, and lodging, as well as regulations for boating, fishing, and hunting. The chapters on education, crime, residency taxes, and utilities will be invaluable to people who are considering moving to Florida. Anyone interested in the history and settlement of the Sunshine State will appreciate the facts about Native American cultures and the chronology of major events in Florida's past. Also included are various statistics and a hurricane survival guide. Packed with information and including a detailed index, it's a useful, comprehensive reference and a fascinating resource for geography lovers.

Esteban Dennis Herrick, 2018-10-15. When Pueblo Indians say "The first white man our people saw was a black man," they are referring to Esteban, who came to New Mexico in 1539. After centuries of negative portrayals, this book highlights Esteban's importance in America's early history. Books about the history of the American West have ignored Esteban or belittled his importance often using his slave nickname Estebanico What little we know about Esteban comes from Ivar N ez Cabeza de Vaca and other Spanish chroniclers whose condescension toward the African slave has carried over into most history books In this work Herrick dispels the myths and outright lies about Esteban His biography emphasizes Esteban rather than the Spaniards whose exploits are often exaggerated and jingoistic in the sixteenth century chronicles He gives Esteban full credit for his courage and his skill as a linguist and cultural intermediary who was trusted and respected by Indians from many tribes across the continent
