Didache and the author of the Shepherd of Hermas The Writings of the Apostolic Fathers Paul Foster,2007-01-01 The Writings of the Apostolic Fathers refer to a group of miscellaneous Christian writings produced in the first and second centuries The authors of these writings were considered by seventeenth century scholars to be the next generation of Apostles and as a result were named The Apostolic Fathers Perceived by many scholars to be the most important collection of post New Testament writings a number of these texts were in fact considered for the Canon of the New Testament but later rejected Their obvious significance stems from the fact that they are the first Christian writings produced outside the New Testament Canon and as such contain an essential insight into the development of the early Christian Church and Christian thinking Much Christian Doctrine came not from the New Testament but from the writings produced by the early church and in particular the writings of the Apostolic Fathers Therefore these texts are crucial to an understanding of the shaping of Christian thought and Christian doctrine This volume will provide readers with an overview of each of the eleven texts together with a general introduction Communicating the best recent scholarship to a broad audience each chapter offers a treatment of the most controversial aspects of each text and discusses the theology of each of the writings in order to orient readers to the development of Christian thinking in the second century Each article ends with a carefully chosen select bibliography to enable further reading The Apostolic Fathers ...: The epistles of St. Ignatius and St. Polycarp, with a history of the Christian church in the second century Edward Burton,1909 Studies in the Apostolic Fathers and Their Background Leslie William Barnard,1967 The Apostolic Fathers, A New Translation and Commentary, Volume II Robert M.
