Christopher M. S. Johns, 2023-11-15 The Venetian sculptor Antonio Canova 1757 1822 was Europe's most celebrated artist from the end of the ancien régime to the early years of the Restoration an era when the traditional relationship between patrons and artists changed drastically Christopher M S Johns's refreshingly original study explores a neglected facet of Canova's career the effects of patrons patronage and politics on his choice of subjects and manner of working While other artists produced art in the service of the state Canova resisted the blandishments of the political powers that commissioned his works Johns uses letters diaries and biographies to establish a political personality for Canova as an individual and an artist of international reputation Though he had patrons as diverse as the pope Napoleon the Austrian Hapsburgs the Prince Regent of Great Britain and the Republic of Venice Canova remained steadily employed and did so without controversy A conservative and a Catholic he devised a strategy that enabled him to work for patrons who were avowed enemies while remaining true to the cultural and artistic heritage of his Italian homeland Using myth and funerary images and avoiding portraiture he disguised the meanings behind his works and thus avoided their being identified with any political purpose Johns greatly enhances our understanding of Canova's place in European art and political history and in showing the influence of censorship display visual narrative and propaganda he highlights issues as contentious today as they were in Canova's time

Sculpture and the Museum Christopher R. Marshall, 2017-07-05 Sculpture and the Museum is the first in depth examination of the varying roles and meanings assigned to sculpture in museums and galleries during the modern period from neo classical to contemporary art practice It considers a rich array of curatorial strategies and settings in order to examine the many reasons why sculpture has enjoyed a position of such considerable importance and complexity within the institutional framework of the museum and how changes to the museum have altered in turn the ways that we perceive the sculpture within it In particular the contributors consider the complex issue of how best to display sculpture across different periods and according to varying curatorial philosophies Sculptors discussed include Canova Rodin Henry Moore Flaxman and contemporary artists such as Rebecca Horn Rachel Whiteread Mark Dion and Olafur Eliasson with a variety of museums in America Canada and Europe presented as case studies Underlying all of these discussions is a concern to chart the critical importance of the acquisition placement and display of sculpture in museums and to explore the importance of sculptures as a forum for the expression of programmatic statements of power prestige and the museum's own sense of itself in relation to its audiences and its broader institutional aspirations

Public Pantheons in Revolutionary Europe E. Bouwers,2011-11-21 The story of how the concept of a pantheon a building honouring great individuals spread across Revolutionary Europe and interacted with socio political and cultural changes Analysing the canon and iconography of each pantheon Bouwers shows how the commemoration of war and celebration of nationhood gave way to the protection of elite interests

Exhibiting Antonio Canova Christina Ferando,2025-10-01

Exhibiting Antonio Canova Display and the Transformation of Sculptural Theory argues that the display of Canova s sculptures in the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries acted as a catalyst for discourse across a broad range of subjects By enshrining his marble figures alongside plaster casts of ancient works bathing them in candlelight staining and waxing their surfaces and even setting them in motion on rotating bases Canova engaged viewers intellectually physically and emotionally These displays inspired discussions on topics as diverse as originality and artistic production the association between the sculptural surface flesh and anatomy the relationship between painting and sculpture and the role of public museums Beholders discussions also shaped the legacy of important sculptural theories They helped usher in their modern definitions and created the lenses through which we experience and interpret works of art establishing modern attitudes not just towards sculpture but towards cultural patrimony in general
