Fearing the Worst Samuel F. Wells Jr.,2019-11-26 After World War II the escalating tensions of the Cold War shaped the international system Fearing the Worst explains how the Korean War fundamentally changed postwar competition between the United States and the Soviet Union into a militarized confrontation that would last decades Samuel F Wells Jr examines how military and political events interacted to escalate the conflict Decisions made by the Truman administration in the first six months of the Korean War drove both superpowers to intensify their defense buildup American leaders feared the worst case scenario that Stalin was prepared to start World War III and raced to build up strategic arms resulting in a struggle they did not seek out or intend Their decisions stemmed from incomplete interpretations of Soviet and Chinese goals especially the belief that China was a Kremlin puppet Yet Stalin Mao and Kim Il sung all had their own agendas about which the United States lacked reliable intelligence Drawing on newly available documents and memoirs including previously restricted archives in Russia China and North Korea Wells analyzes the key decision points that changed the course of the war He also provides vivid profiles of the central actors as well as important but lesser known figures Bringing together studies of military policy and diplomacy with the roles of technology intelligence and domestic politics in each of the principal nations Fearing the Worst offers a new account of the Korean War and its lasting legacy Nuclear Weapons and the Environment

John Perry,2021-03-12 In Nuclear Weapons and the Environment John Perry highlights the environmental damage caused by nuclear device testing The failure of the Nuclear Proliferation Treaty and the continued proliferation of nuclear weapons is a grave risk to not only human life but to the environment Pointing to the unstable political situation between a variety of state and non state actors the remediation of nuclear test sites and the risks involved in the production of nuclear weapons Perry makes a clear case for the dire importance of non proliferation Qliphothic Astrology Hermes Astrology,2024-06-21
