Alternative Economic Spaces:

Alternative Economic Spaces Andrew Leyshon, Roger Lee, Colin C. Williams, 2003 A hopeful but nonetheless hard hitting analysis of alternative economic spaces proliferating in the belly of the capitalist beast In this book Leyshon Lee and Williams convene fascinating studies of exchange enterprise credit and community They invite us onto a new and promising discursive terrain where we can analyze criticize and above all recognize actually existing economies of diversity in the wealthy countries of the West J K Gibson Graham Australian National University and University of Massachusetts Amherst In the context of problems in the new economy from dot com sta Interrogating Alterity Duncan Fuller, Andrew E. G. Jonas, Roger Lee, 2010 Alternative ways of thinking analysing and performing economic geographies have become ever more significant in recent years The importance of such alternatives continues to be underlined by the recent global financial crisis the ongoing social and political consequences of which have spread from Europe and the USA to economies and places throughout the world Yet there is a real danger that the debate about alternatives simply becomes a way of fixing global capitalism in its present crisis ridden form Instead the analysis of alternative economic spaces must continue to offer a critique of the very notion of capitalism as a universal if variable set of social relations For geographers and other critical social scientists there is great excitement about the possibilities inherent in constructing alternative economic spaces and for exploiting alternative spaces of political engagement This important book brings together critical analyses of alterity from across the social sciences and humanities refining and advancing what alternative economies and polities are how they are formed what difficulties and problems they face and how they might be sustained A central theme running through the book is the need to examine critically both the material contexts and the conceptual categories deployed in the making of alternative economies This rich and inspiring collection samples an exciting new scholarly tradition one that draws upon and feeds into the social movements that are transforming economies worldwide At once supportive and critical Interrogating Alterity is a must read for anyone interested in the other economies currently taking shape on the ground J K Gibson Graham University of Massachusetts Amherst USA and University of Western Sydney Australia Alternative Economies and Spaces Hans-Martin Zademach, Sebastian Hillebrand, 2014-04-15 The volume entails a collection of contributions by leading scholars Raymond Bryant Michael K Goodman Benjamin Huybrechts Andrew E G Jonas Roger Lee Peter North and Katinka Weber concerned with alternative modes of economic and social exchange The cases addressed in these contributions including credit unions alternative currencies sustainable consumption and social enterprises deliver valuable insights into how such alternatives are performed at various scales and spaces in relation to and beyond the economic mainstream In sum the collection provides vital grounds for both a transition of the economic system towards a more sustainable one and a reconceptualisation of the economic itself in our scholarly thinking and everyday lives Alternative Economies and Spaces, 2013 Reworking Tourism Jenny Cave, Dianne Dredge, 2020-07-29 There is a growing backlash against extractive and exploitative forms of tourism that have unleashed what some argue as unacceptable levels of change on local communities and environments. Examples include the rise of overtourism, the environmental impacts of the cruise sector and collaborative economy platforms that have contributed to concerns over housing affordability and availability. Anti-tourism activism is on the rise and the need to rethink the economic, political and social organisation of tourism in a global world has never been more apparent. It is increasingly clear that we need to rework the values underpinning tourism and visitor economies and move the focus from its traditional emphasis on profit, jobs and growth towards new models of economic and social exchange. This book gives voice to a growing movement of scholars, activists and business leaders who acknowledge that we need to reinvent relationships between tourism production and consumption and between labour, capital and resources. In the Global North, this exploration of alternative economic and political relationships in tourism has tended to be located at the margins of discussion. The Global South has much to teach the Global North about alternative economic models, different kinds of exchange, new relationships between labour, capital and resources and resilience. Drawing from case studies in both the North and the South, this edited collection explores how some are reworking tourism, reshaping the economies of tourism and in the process how tourism can deliver social and economic wellbeing in a changing world. Reworking Tourism will be of interest to scholars of tourism and development as well as tourism and economics. The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Tourism Planning & Development.

Social Economy in China and the World Ngai Pun, Ben Hok-bun Ku, Hairong Yan, Anita Koo, 2015-08-20. Thirty years of economic transformation has turned China into one of the major players in the global capitalist economy. However, its economic growth has generated rising problems in inequality, alienation and sustainability, with the agrarian crises of the 1990s giving rise to real social outcry to the extent that they became the object of central government policy reformulations. Contributing to a paradigm shift in the theory and practices of economic development, this book examines the concept of social economy in China and around the world. It offers to rethink space, economy and community in a trans-border context which moves us beyond both planned and market economies. The chapters address theoretical issues, critical reflections and case studies on the practice of social economy in the context of globalization and its attempt to create an alternative modernity. Through this, the book builds a platform for further cross-disciplinary and cross-boundary dialogue on the future of social economy in China and the world. With examples from Asia, North America, Latin America and Europe, this book will not only appeal to students and scholars of Chinese and Asian social policy and development but also those of social economy from an international perspective.
