Our Air Force William Mitchell, 1921 Air Force Systems Command United States. Air Force. Systems Command, 1985 Air Force Magazine, 2003 Advancing the U.S. Air Force's Force-development Initiative S. Craig Moore, Marygail K. Brauner, 2007 The Air Force's force development initiative evolved from research that the RAND Corporation began in the late 1990s aiming to improve the development of Air Force senior leaders This monograph summarizes force development's history recommends ways to advance the initiative and suggests areas that need senior leaders attention and decision making In it they respond to discussions during 2005 with Maj Gen Tony Przbyslawski Commander of the Air Force Personnel Center In current force development parlance they concentrate on the development of occupational competencies that can be managed substantially and more definitively using officer assignments in contrast to institutional competencies e.g negotiating visioning fostering diversity listening actively and demonstrating ethical leadership that are less job specific and that the Air Force is working to inculcate largely through education and training This document should be of value across the Air Force manpower and personnel community and perhaps even more to career field managers and development teams in other functional areas It aims to help members of the Force Management and Development Council FMDC formerly the Force Development Council adopt a common vision for the future of occupational force development and to promote consistent advancements within and across their functional areas The History of the US Air Force Bill Yenne, 1984 A history of the United States Air Force describing its major commands their designated missions the men in command and the men who served both before and after 1947 United States Air Force Ellen Hopkins, 2003-08 Provides an overview of the United States Air Force including its history weapons and vehicles A Concise History of the U. S. Air Force Stephen L. McFarland, 1997 Except in a few instances since World War II no American soldier or sailor has been attacked by enemy air power Conversely no enemy soldier or sailor has acted in combat without being attacked or at least threatened by American air power Aviators have brought the air weapon to bear against enemies while denying them the same prerogative This is the legacy of the U S Air Force purchased at great cost in both human and material resources More often than not aerial pioneers had to fight technological ignorance bureaucratic opposition public apathy and disagreement over purpose Every step in the evolution of air power led into new and untrodden territory driven by humanitarian impulses by the search for higher faster and farther flight or by the conviction that the air way was the best way Warriors have always coveted the high ground If technology permitted them to reach it men women and an Air Force held and exploited it from Thomas Selfridge first among so many who gave that last full measure of devotion to Women's Air Force Service Pilot Ann Baumgartner who broke social barriers to become the first American woman to pilot a jet to Benjamin Davis who broke racial barriers to become the first African American to command a flying group to Chuck Yeager a one time noncommissioned flight officer who was the first to exceed the speed of sound to John Warden who began
