Beyond Multilateralism:

Beyond Multilateralism David T. Twining, 1998-04-23 This book uses three in depth case studies to illustrate the shortcomings of conventional multilateral diplomacy in dealing with emerging transnational problems David T Twining discusses the United Nations Commission on Sustainable Development and its inability to carry out the promises of the 1992 Rio Earth Summit the Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe and its difficulty in achieving its goals in troubled areas such as Bosnia and the relatively successful efforts of the World Bank Group a multilateral institution With the approach of the 21st century Twining argues nation states must seek to engage the widest number of participants and to find ways to go beyond multiculturalism as it currently exists if global environmental economic and security problems are to be resolved

State, Globalization and Multilateralism Mario Telò, 2012-02-16 This volume presents a reconsideration of the concepts of State and political power within the evolving multilateral network of cooperation and conflict By means of an innovating research strategy it explains state resilience within global governance while deepening the obsolescence of the traditional sovereign state concepts including by emerging powers Rather than considering the EU as an isolated case study the book considers the EU as both a reference and a proactive player which fosters a new research agenda both for comparative studies and political theory Lastly in view of the currently emergent unprecedented and asymmetrical multi polar world it considers the need for a new research agenda on multilateralism

Trade Facilitation Beyond the Multilateral Trade Negotiations, 2007 This publication brings together the main research outputs produced by the Asia Pacific Research and Training Network on Trade ARTNeT and its members and partners between April 2006 and January 2007 The book includes 10 chapters that introduce the concept of trade and facilitation beyond the ongoing multilateral trade negotiations provide an analysis of regional trade facilitation initiatives describe rules of origin in Preferential Trade Agreements PTAs present customs valuation in developing countries and give broader perspective of trade facilitation and recommendations on arriving at a meaningful multilateral agreement on trade facilitation

The Concertation Impulse in World Politics Andrew Fenton Cooper, 2023-12-21 This book unravels the centrality of contestation over international institutions under the shadow of crisis Andrew Cooper makes a compelling case that concertation represents a fundamental institution as a peer competitor to multilateralism

Rethinking Japanese Security Peter J. Katzenstein, 2008-03-11 Since the unexpected end of the Cold War standard arguments about power politics can no longer be adopted uncritically This has led to a renewed interest in Japan's unusually peaceful security policy Japan's championing of comprehensive security is central to this collection Peter J Katzenstein's essays explore this concept which not only encompasses traditional military concerns but also domestic aspects of security The book's focus on counter terrorism and national security highlights a policy approach which over decades Japan has developed with political patience and diplomatic finesse These essays advocate an eclectic approach that helps in recognizing new questions and that seek to combine elements from different analytical perspectives in the exploration of novel lines of argument Additionally the book features an entirely new substantial introduction that explores and elaborates the themes of the collection while bringing it up to date This collection will be of significant interest to students and scholars of Japanese politics security studies and international relations Climate Frontiers and Social Transformation Matthew Chidozie Ogwu, Sylvester Chibueze Izah, 2026-02-17 This book examines how climate change is reshaping not just the environment but also global politics economies and societies Through a systems level analysis it demonstrates the link between ecological crises and global capitalism power struggles and social movements The book explains how climate change disproportionately affects the poorest and most vulnerable particularly in the Global South Employing world systems theory and historical analysis the book explores crucial issues such as fossil fuel dependence global trade urbanization and resistance movements The book also discusses the roles of Indigenous communities youth activism and grassroots efforts in striving for a fairer more sustainable future With its case studies and forward looking insights this book will appeal to anyone studying or working in the fields of climate justice sustainability or global change

Beyond Bilateralism Ellis S. Krauss, T. J. Pempel, 2004 Beyond Bilateralism analyzes how and to what extent crucial global and regional security finance and trade transformations have altered the U S Japan relationship and how that bilateral relationship has in turn influenced those global and regional trends

Agrifood Transitions in the Anthropocene Allison M. Loconto, Douglas H. Constance, 2024-02-01 The greatest challenges of the twenty first century stem from the fact that we are now living in a new epoch the Anthropocene The human footprint on the planet can no longer be denied One of the greatest and most essential human innovations agriculture is being increasingly recognised as a leading contributor to climate change According to global governance bodies the world will need to feed a predicted nine billion people by 2050 However in this Anthropocene we must address the environmental inequalities in how these people will be fed This book explores our current societal struggles to transition towards more sustainable agrifood systems It suggests that debates around sustainable agriculture must be social as well as technical exploring the growth of social movements campaigning for more democratic food systems However as each chapter demonstrates both the problems and the solutions in sustainable agriculture are highly contested Using the term agrifood to capture the nexus between research governance and the environment knowledge environment governance this book provides an in depth and wide ranging account of current research around agricultural production and food consumption The book introduces the Anthropocene along with the fundamental question that it poses about human nature interactions It outlines the core concerns related to agriculture and food and the debates around the need for agrifood system transitions Each chapter investigates controversies in the field through case studies These contributions offer a call for sociologists of agriculture and food to engage with the controversies unfolding in the Anthropocene

Challenges of Globalization Marika Lerch, 2017-12-02 Globalization has been the buzzword in international political and academic discourse since the 1990s It is used as a general descriptor of a world in which borders are becoming less and less important

while transnational flows of capital and goods but also of ideas and people cultural norms and values crime war and viruses are increasing If globalization s dynamics are to be fully understood a reasonable critique is to be formulated and realistic political proposals to meet the challenges of globalization are to be developed this complex phenomenon must be dissected Challenges of Globalization brings together prominent authors of different national backgrounds They look beyond the buzzword to provide a genuinely global view of globalization The editors introduction provides a roadmap through the globalization debate and shows the connections between the different aspects covered in detail in the various contributions This volume deals with two major issues first the economic societal ecological and political consequences of globalization including but also going beyond the identification of globalization s winners and losers worldwide and second solutions that have emerged from the current political debate to cope with the various challenges These include the creation of new global governance structures fostering a global civil society that might enhance the democratic legitimacy of global governance and strategies to be implemented at national and regional levels allowing states to adapt in ways that make liberalization compatible with development in poor countries and enable the rescue of the welfare state in rich countries Challenges of Globalization serves as a multi dimensional and accessible introduction to the globalization debate and will be of particular interest to academics policymakers and international agencies

Twentieth Century International Relations: Whatever happened to the Pacific century? Michael Cox,2006

Rethinking Multilateralism in Foreign Aid Viktor Jakupec,Max Kelly,Jonathan Makuwira,2020-04-23 This edited book provides a contemporary critical and thought provoking analysis of the internal and external threats to Western multilateral development finance in the twenty first century It draws on the expertise of scholars with a range of backgrounds providing a critical exploration of the neoliberal multilateral development aid The contributions focus on how Western institutions have historically dominated development aid and juxtapose this hegemony with the recent challenges from right wing populist and the Beijing Consensus ideologies and practices This book argues that the rise of right wing populism has brought internal challenges to traditional powers within the multilateral development system External challenges arise from the influence of China and regional development banks by providing alternatives to established Western dominated aid sources and architecture From this vantagepoint Rethinking Multilateralism in Foreign Aid puts forward new ideas for addressing the current global social political and economic challenges concerning multilateral development aid This book will be of interest to researchers academics and students in the field of International Development and Global Governance decision makers at government level as well as to those working in international aid institutions regional and bilateral aid agencies and non governmental organisations

Beyond the Handshake Dalia Dassa Kaye,1997

Regionalism, Multilateralism, and Economic Integration Gary P. Sampson,Stephen Woolcock,2003 This publication considers whether regional trade agreements have led to a new form of economic co operation by promoting deeper integration in the regulatory structures of participating countries An examination of recent experiences are found to show that although there is no single model for deeper integration regional trade agreements have generally more effective than more remote WTO procedures in facilitating trade and improving transparency Regional processes and rules are found to have been consistent with the multilateral obligations of each party with additional commitments in the regional agreements complementing WTO rules
