

Discourse Performance in L2 Task Repetition

Abstract

Language practice in the format of 'repetition' has often been associated with behavioristic drills that was regarded as giving rise to habit formation, and was often excluded from the mainstream language teaching approaches. However, this study, drawing upon Bygate's (1999) argument on task being a context for the framing and reframing of language, shows that repetition in meaningful tasks does not necessarily involve passive performance repetition, instead, L2 learners are actively re-constructing the narrative discourse under the task repetition condition. This study provides support to this argument through the analysis of the speech samples from thirteen learners performing an immediate L2 task repetition. The participants were asked to perform a video-based monologue story narration twice to an imagined listener, and the comparison of the learners' first and second speech performance shows that the learners enhanced their discourse performance with: (1) larger discourse quantity (evidenced by more Total Words, Total Propositions, and higher P-density); (2) higher cohesion (evidenced by higher LSA Given/New value); and (3) higher lexical quality (evidenced by higher Noun Hyperonymy value, indicating more specific nouns used). The results suggest that task repetition in addition to its effects on language complexity, accuracy, and fluency has an impact on learners' speech performance at the discourse level.

Introduction

Research on task-based language teaching and learning has undergone remarkable development in recent years (Ellis, 2003, 2005; Long 2014; Robinson, 2011; Skehan, 2009; Van den Branden, Bygate, & Norris, 2009). Research findings in general lend support to the effectiveness of using 'tasks', in which meaning is primary, with variations of conditions and characteristics for the improvement of second language performance and proficiency (Samuda & Bygate, 2008; Skehan, Bui, Li, & Wang, 2012). However, among the task conditions, task repetition perhaps is the least studied (though notable studies include Ahmadian & Tavakoli, 2011; Bui, 2015; Bygate, 1996, 1999, 2001; De Jong & Perfetti, 2012; Fukuta, 2016; Lynch & McLean, 2000; Gass, Mackey, Alvarez-Torres, & Fernandez-
