Ataturks Children:

Atatürk's Children Jonathan Rugman, Roger Hutchings, 1996 Rebels of the PKK Kurdistan Workers Party have been waging a guerilla war against Turkey since the mid 1980s According to official Turkish figures more than 15 000 people have lost their lives As the conflict has worsened so have the human rights abuses committed against the Kurds by the Turkish authorities but the West's view of Turkey as a vital member of NATO and a bulwark against conflict in the Balkans means that it has failed to speak out against Turkey's actions Rugman and Hutchings reveal the plight of the Kurdish people and attempt to redress the under reporting in the West of the Kurdish conflict ATATURK AND EMPEROR MEIJI OF JAPAN, "Conversations in Heaven" Ercument Kilic, 2023-05-22 MERHABA KONNICHIIWA This book is about two of the most inspiring leaders of all time Atatürk and Emperor Meiji of Japan and the destinies of the countries they changed Turkey and Japan Atatürk was the founding father of the new Republic of Turkey after the collapse of the Ottoman Empire and Meiji was the 122nd Emperor of Japan who established a new system of government in Japan following the departure of the last shogun Atatürk 1881 1938 and Meiji 1852 1912 were mirror images of one another They both were revolutionary reformists determined to unleash their countries from their feudal pasts into modernity The identical reforms of Atatürk in Turkey in the 1920s and the 1930s and Meiji's reforms in Japan in the late 1800s were intended to rip their countries out of the darkness of the Middle Ages They both foresaw their nations advancement only through full adaptation of Western values and institutions which was an extremely difficult task considering the impossible ordeal of convincing the predominantly unsophisticated and regressive Muslim and Shinto societies They changed their peoples obstinate cultural habits and institutions of thousands of years Having an unyielding commitment to secularism they identified secularism to be the only path to modernization All these and many other similar accomplishments were truly extraordinary because of their very identical nature however as I discovered during my research the eerie similar past lives life experiences and personal resemblances of Atatürk and Meiji in opposite corners of the world I felt that the writing of this book became more of a mission for me than just writing a history book The core of this book however explores two issues the first is the reason why Turkey and Japan occupy two starkly contrasting places on the world stage today despite the fact that Atatürk and Meiji had enacted nearly identical reforms in their respective countries the second is the nature of the current and ongoing conflict between two different factions in Turkey the political Islamists and the Western minded secularists the followers of Atatürk Equally importantly I will also talk about the Turkish and Japanese cultures and the curiously intertwined histories of Turkey and Japan which go back 747 years dating back to the invasions of Japan in 1274 and 1281 by Kublai Khan's Mongolian armies which by the way were mostly made up of Christian Turks As I mentioned at the top although the essence of this book is to make comparisons between the contrasting end results of identical reforms of Atatürk in Turkey in the 1920s and the 1930s and Meiji's reforms in Japan in the late 1800s the end result of that contrast between Japan and Turkey actually emerges before us as one foregone conclusion Turkey since Atatürk's death in 1938 did not follow his footsteps unlike Japan after Meiji. So what did happen? Why did Turkey and Japan with the very identical reforms of Atatürk and Meiji end up in two contrasting places in the spectrum of advanced development today? What was the culprit? My arguments in this book will point in the direction of the political Islamists and their manipulative usage of Islam since Atatürk's death most specifically in the direction of the cruel war they have waged in recent years against Atatürk's secular and Western ideals.

Madam Ataturk Ypek Calyplar, 2013-10-16 Mustafa Kemal Ataturk is hailed as one of the most charismatic political leaders of the twentieth century but little is known today about his one and only wife Latife Hanım. A multilingual intellectual educated at the Sorbonne Latife's marriage to Ataturk in 1923 set her apart from her contemporaries raising her to the pinnacle of political power. She played a central role in the creation of a modern and secular Turkey and campaigned tirelessly for women's right to vote. Throughout her marriage Latife stood beside her husband and acted as his interpreter, promoter and diplomatic aide. She even twice risked her own life to save his. However after only two years of marriage Ataturk divorced Latife and she soon disappeared from public life. She was shunned, blamed for the failure of the marriage and portrayed as a sharp tongued quarrelsome woman who had strained Ataturk's nerves. Latife spent the rest of her life in seclusion. In the first biography to be written on Latife Hanım Ypek Calyplar recounts the life of an exceptional and courageous woman well ahead of her time who lived through a remarkable period in Turkish history.

The Kurdish Spring David L. Phillips, 2017-07-05 Kurds are the largest stateless people in the world. An estimated thirty two million Kurds live in Kurdistan which includes parts of Turkey, Iraq, Syria and Iran today's hot spots in the Middle East. The Kurdish Spring explores the subjugation of Kurds by Arab, Ottoman and Persian powers for almost a century and explains why Kurds are now evolving from a victimized people to a coherent political community. David L. Phillips describes Kurdish rebellions and arbitrary divisions in the last century chronicling the nadir of Kurdish experience in the 1980s. He discusses draconian measures implemented by Iraq including use of chemical weapons, Turkey's restrictions on political and cultural rights, denial of citizenship and punishment for expressing Kurdish identity in Syria and repressive rule in Iran. Phillips forecasts the collapse and fragmentation of Iraq. He argues that US strategic and security interests are advanced through cooperation with Kurds as a bulwark against ISIS and Islamic extremism. This work will encourage the public to look critically at the post colonial period recognizing the injustice and impracticality of states that were created by Great Powers and offering a new perspective on sovereignty and statehood.
