Changing The Subject:

Changing the Subject in English Class Marshall W. Alcorn, 2002 Alcorn English and humanities George Washington U argues that the gradual shift in the teaching of composition from a curriculum that looked at literature as an attempt to represent reality to one that stresses the subjectivity of the student in decoding texts has incorporated an insufficiently complex understanding of subjectivity The current cultural studies programs stress political ideas over expressive writing but Alcorn argues that political ideas will never be right unless there is attention to self expression Basing his work in the conceptual world of psychoanalytic theory he outlines a cultural studies practice that develops anti ideological identity Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Changing the Subject Julian Henriques, Wendy Hollway, Cathy Urwin, Couze Venn, Valerie Walkerdine, 2003-09-02 Changing the Subject is a classic critique of traditional psychology in which the foundations of critical and feminist psychology are laid down Pioneering and foundational it is still the groundbreaking text crucial to furthering the new psychology in both teaching and research Now reissued with a new foreword describing the changes which have taken place over the last few years Changing the Subject will continue to have a significant impact on thinking about psychology and social theory
