Contemporary Migrant Families Paula Pustułka, Magdalena Ślusarczyk, Justyna Struzik, 2018-10-12 Despite extensive and continuous academic interest in migrant and transnational families a stereotypical view that those leading mobile lives are somehow beyond the contours of normativity is still prevalent Such a perspective concerns both kinship and family practices of familyhood across borders and the bi or multicultural settings of providing or offering care Consequently we primarily hear about migration leading to broken relationships the dissolution of families and bonds substandard provisions of care abandonment exploitation of employees and so on In this climate of public imagination of migrants either being dangerous or concurrently stealing one's job and scrounging off the welfare state it is no small feat to be a migration scholar Trying to overcome the universalising views that essentialise human experience requires a wholly different point of departure one which is represented in this volume This is because a now well established transnational paradigm allows for a more nuanced analysis originating with the premise that not only normalises mobility but also proves that various ties and relationships can be continued in the long term despite spatial distance On the whole the transnational lens provided here showcases how new family practices are devised and deployed in mobile family lives thus allowing the argument that migration enriches certain dimensions of contemporary family life and caregiving This book plays on the dichotomy of migration as the new normal and mobility as a continuous source of challenges The core issues examined here concern such problems as maintaining kinship ties across borders new patterns of mothering and fathering children's sense of belonging and identifications and social capital and engagement in community life It reveals that doing family in the migration context often eludes simple definitions of national space or typical family Instead it offers a transnational understanding of how a person practically and pragmatically arranges one's family and kinship strategically choosing pathways of care child rearing relationships at home maintaining traditions and so forth
