THE Journal ,1997      Computers and the Teaching of Writing in American Higher Education, 1979-1994 Gail E. Hawisher,1996 This book is a history composed of histories Its particular focus is the way in which computers entered and changed the field of composition studies a field that defines itself both as a research community and as a community of teachers This may have a somewhat sinister suggestion that technology alone has agency but this history made of histories is not principally about computers It is about people the teachers and scholars who have adapted the computer to their personal and professional purposes From the authors perspectives change in technology drives changes in the ways we live and work and we agents to a degree in control of our own lives use technology to achieve our human purposes REVIEW This book reminds those of us now using computers to teach writing where we have been and it brings those who are just entering the field up to date More important it will inform administrators curriculum specialists and others responsible for implementing the future uses of technology in writing instruction Computers and Composition      Perspectives in Computing ,1983      Simple Approaches to Writing Short Essays Peter Jia,2006 This book is aimed at intermediate level ESL students It is a compilation of the author s teaching notes therefore it can serve as a textbook for ESL teachers The book is purposely written and organized in very simple clear and precise words and structures so that it can also serve as a self help studying material Each chapter of the book deals with one suggested approach in essay writing so that students can focus on their learning It is handy for ESL students to keep it as a reference book

The Essentials of Academic Writing Derek Soles,2005 Provides thorough coverage of the most important phases of academic writing from planning and research through revising and proofreading five carefully annotated academic essays by students and well known authors as models of narrative expository and argumentative writing and thirteen additional sample essays both student and professional and an engaging case study of a student research paper
