

A close-up photograph of a person's hands, wearing a dark suit jacket and a blue tie, holding two interlocking wooden puzzle pieces. The puzzle pieces are light-colored wood and are joined together to form a single horizontal bar. The word "DISPUTE" is printed in red, uppercase letters on the left piece, and the word "RESOLUTION" is printed in red, uppercase letters on the right piece. The background is a blurred office setting.

Online Dispute Resolution Gabrielle Kaufmann-Kohler, Thomas Schultz, 2004-01-01 In a world governed by speed the Internet plays a growing role in many of today s innovations and the resolution of disputes using electronic means of communication may soon be part of everyday legal practice This book offers a survey of the current state of play in online dispute resolution from the methods and information technology currently in use to the range of regulatory solutions proposed by shareholders Taking their analysis a step further the authors also address this new field s most pressing issues including possible amendments of existing legislation treaties and arbitration and other ADR rules Online Dispute Resolution Challenges for Contemporary Justice is an in depth study of online dispute resolution today discussing among other topics the different methods of ODR fields of use ways to bring parties to online dispute resolution validity and effects of clauses entered into online and providing for online mediation or arbitration issues surrounding electronic communications and evidence in arbitration and enforcement of online dispute resolution outcomes both through court proceedings and built in enforcement mechanisms This book also covers issues related to security and e commerce in general As a special feature it contains a section on existing online dispute resolution providers complete with interviews and statistics Online Dispute Resolution Challenges for Contemporary Justice is a significant resource for legal counsel to arbitral institutions ODR and ADR service providers governments and governmental and non governmental organizations as well as to those with a more academic interest This book will provide a greater understanding of online dispute resolution to persons in the fields of arbitration and ADR e commerce intellectual property civil procedure international law international trade and commerce and information technology

Dispute Resolution Under Tax Treaties Zvi Daniel Altman,2005 As the interrelationship among tax bases continues to parallel the rapid development of the global economy disputes among governments as to their right to tax international trade and investments under income tax treaties are expected to increase in number and scope Winner of the 2006 Mitchell B Carroll Prize awarded by the International Fiscal Association IFA Why this book This study takes an in depth look at the mechanisms used to resolve such disputes and how they interact with the interests of the various parties involved in the process The study presents an analysis of the available literature supplemented by statistical data from North America Europe and Asia Analysis of this data leads to interesting insights into the way the dispute resolution process functions when it is applied in different contexts The study concludes by suggesting the creation of a new mechanism for the resolution of tax treaty related disputes and advocates in part the establishment of a new international organization with links to domestic judicial networks This mechanism is then subjected to the same common framework analysis and checklist used in earlier parts of the study The analysis suggests how such a mechanism would mitigate some of the most formidable challenges associated with the current dispute resolution procedures

International Contracts and National Economic Regulation:Dispute Resolution Through International Commercial Arbitration Mahmood Bagheri,2000-12-06 The growth of national economic regulation and the process of globalisation increasingly expose international transactions to an array of regulations from different jurisdictions These developments often contribute to widespread international contractual failures when parties claim the incompatibility of their contractual obligations with regulatory laws The author challenges conventional means of dispute resolution and argues for an interdisciplinary approach whereby disciplines such as international economic law conflict of laws contract law and economic regulations are functionally united to resolve international and multifaceted regulatory disputes He identifies the normative foundation of contract law as an important determinant in this process contending that contract law is essentially neutral and underpinned by the concept of corrective justice while economic regulations are mainly prompted by distributive justice Applying this corrective distributive justice dichotomy to international contracts the author critically assesses major conflict of laws approaches such as proper law the Rome Convention and governmental interest analysis which could disregard either public interest or private rights The author taking these theories into account proposes an alternative two dimensional interest analysis approach He tests the viability of this approach with reference to arbitral awards and court decisions in various jurisdictions and concludes that it uniquely fits into the structure of international commercial arbitration In adopting this approach arbitrators would take into account both corrective and distributive justice and to the extent that corrective justice prevails would be able to avert a total failure of the contract
