The Christian View of Man H. D. McDonald,1981 The Christian View of Man John Gresham Machen,1947 The Biblical View of Man Leo Adler,Daniel R. Schwartz,Shimon Gesundheit,2015-01-01 The Biblical View of Man argues cogently that the Bible is more about human beings than about God and insists that in the biblical view what human beings need is not so much wisdom or grace but rather their own free will to fulfill the obligations that a loving God has bestowed upon them in order to allow them to prove and improve themselves According to Rabbi Leo Adler the exercise of such free will rather than implying a lack of need for God actually requires a firm commitment to God First published in German in 1965 this engaging interpretation of the Bible appears in English for the first time The Christian View of Man Hugh Dermot McDonald,1981

thinking of African people Many African have expressed a need for the theology that reflects the original thinking of African peoples Some theologians have recklessly labeled every aspect of African culture to be evil whereas others have expressed contempt regarding Christianity wrapped in Europeans culture Having stayed away from my culture for more than twenty years I have encountered several cultural shocks My personal experience has induced me to invest time into intensive researching on the issue of culture and Christianity in anticipation to help somebody puzzled and drowned in confusion I mean somebody who will not draw a diving line between the two aspects of lives Within every cultural background setting there is a godly culture that is not in conflict with Christianity The culture of man apart from God equals to corruption God created culture and He sent His Son to restore and to preserve the moral values of the cultures The godly culture of man should therefore not be in conflict with the culture of the Bible This topic has been produced in a series of teachings in different volumes of books for deeper clarification I advise you to read all of the series available for your spiritual growth
