

Bachelorette PARTY DRINKING GAMES

LIE DETECTOR

How to play:

Step 1

Two bachelorettes step forward to face each other, one on either side of the "lie line". Their task is to ask each other during questions and guess if their opponent's answers were the truth or lies.

Step 2

The person who asked the questions later confirms the answer - whether the guess was right or wrong.

Step 3

The one who guesses wrong must drink from the bottle of alcohol. The person with the most points wins.

Two at Once

30-40 min

GUESS WHO?

How to play:

Step 1

Each guest writes a secret of herself on a piece of paper. The secret can be about anything at all - it doesn't necessary have to be something very personal.

Step 2

When all the secrets are written down, the players drop them all in a small bowl. If you do not have a glass bowl, a hat or a paper bag will do.

Step 3

Everyone then files out to pick one each. Each of the guests has to guess who wrote on the paper they picked.

Step 4

If a guest gets the writer right, the writer takes a shot of alcohol. If the guest gets it wrong, she takes a swig of alcohol.

3-10+

30 min

NEVER HAVE I EVER

How to play:

Step 1

Let the bride be the first to start the game off. She will begin by saying "Never have I ever..." and follow it up with something that she has never done. For example she could say "Never have I ever been streaking".

Step 2

The person to the right of the bride will go next.

Step 3

The game continues until everyone has had a turn or two or everyone is ready to tap out.

Two at Once

30-40 min

DRUNK JENGA

How to play:

Step 1

All players take a Jenga piece and write a command on the bottom of each Jenga piece, for example, "kiss the person to your left", "sing a song by Ed Sheeran", "take a shot with the person on your right", etc.

Step 2

Then the guests build a Jenga tower. When someone pulls a block, they have to do whatever it says.

Step 3

The last player who makes the tower fall has to finish her drink in one gulp.

BEER PONG

How to play:

Step 1

You need to arrange ten plastic cups in a pyramid-like formation on each side of a ping pong table.

Step 2

Fill each cup with the desired amount of beer (it is possible to use other alcohol or other liquid of your choice, but the traditional version involves beer). Traditionally it takes two 12oz beers to fill all ten cups, but this amount can vary depending on how much you'd like to drink.

Step 3

Team takes turn throwing a table tennis ball into the other team's cups. Once a ball hits a cup, the cup is taken away and the opponents drink the contents of the cup (even by accident), the cup that the ball goes into is removed, as well as another cup of the defending player's choice.

Step 4

The team that successfully hits all of the opponent's cups wins the game.
