Brassed Off:

"Brassed Off" Pascale Didierjean, Patricia Hinterlang, 2001-12 Tears of Laughter Nigel Mather, 2006-03-03 Nigel Mather examines the interactions of comedy and drama in three vital thematic strands of British cinema during the 1990s comedies exploring issues of class culture and community in British society ethnic comedy dramas engaging with complex issues of identity and allegiance in modern Britain and romantic comedies featuring characters searching for a suitable and desirable partner Films to be discussed in detail include Brassed Off The Full Monty East is East Four Weddings and a Funeral Notting Hill and a post 1990s romantic comedy Love Actually A Postcapitalist Politics J. K. Gibson-Graham, Is there life after capitalism In this creatively argued follow up to their book The End of Capitalism As We Knew It J K Gibson Graham offer already existing alternatives to a global capitalist order and outline strategies for building alternative economies A Postcapitalist Politics reveals a prolific landscape of economic diversity one that is not exclusively or predominantly capitalist and examines the challenges and successes of alternative economic interventions Gibson Graham bring together political economy feminist poststructuralism and economic activism to foreground the ethical decisions as opposed to structural imperatives that construct economic development pathways Marshalling empirical evidence from local economic projects and action research in the United States Australia and Asia they produce a distinctive political imaginary with three intersecting moments a politics of language of the subject and of collective action In the face of an almost universal sense of surrender to capitalist globalization this book demonstrates that postcapitalist subjects economies and communities can be fostered The authors describe a politics of possibility that can build different economies in place and over space They urge us to confront the forces that stand in the way of economic experimentation and to explore different ways of moving from theory to action J K Gibson Graham is the pen name of Katherine Gibson and Julie Graham feminist economic geographers who work respectively at the Australian National University in Canberra and the University of Massachusetts Amherst Stereotypes about Northerners are reinforced in the scene Rodrigo's Concierto de Aranjuez in the film "Brassed Off" Julia Wehner, 2012-02-29 Seminar paper from the year 2011 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Culture and Applied Geography grade 2 3 University of Duisburg Essen language English abstract Stereotypes are human nature and can never be avoided completely However stereotypes about Northern England and Northerners seem to be particularly deep rooted and longlasting There is general agreement that they date from the 18th and 19th century when Northern England was the starting point of the Industrial Revolution Jewell 2 When we speak of stereotyped characters we are dealing in particular with traditions deriving from the effects of the Industrial Revolution Morris 9 The stereotypical Northerners are working class people not well educated and their lives are full of struggle and conflict According to many preconceptions a male Northerner is unhealthy badly dressed and frank about sex Further clich attributes are pragmatic direct and even rude but also down to earth passionate and heartily Northerners feel alienated from the government in the centre London and distinguish between us and them which creates to a strong sense of community In today s pop culture these stereotypes are predominantly media transmitted By using a certain mode of presenting Northern English reality and its inhabitants stereotypes are rather reinforced than replaced in the media Hence there is a specific pattern used to reinforce stereotypes about Northern England and Northerners in films such as in the film Brassed off The most striking features that intensify these clichés in Brassed off are setting language protagonists and 4 topics All these characteristics can be found in the scene when the Grimley Colliery Band practices Rodrigo s Concierto de Aranjuez thus this scene reinforces stereotypes about Northern England to a large extent

Studienarbeit aus dem Jahr 2013 im Fachbereich Anglistik Kultur und Landeskunde Note 1,7 Johannes Gutenberg Universität Mainz Department of English and Linguistics Veranstaltung The North of England Sprache Deutsch Abstract In 2001 Paul Marris argued in an essay which appeared in Cineaste that the tradition of northern realism could be traced back to Elizabeth Gaskell s social problem novels which announced many of the themes and approaches that have underpinned the traditional representation of the North up to the present a documentary interest in the industrial urban districts a realism which is in tension with melodramatic devices the incorporation of elements of demotic speech a continuing association between northernness and the industrial working class and a portrayal from the vantage point which is not wholly within The reliance on stereotypes is probably partly related to the fact that most works of art documentaries and studies concerning the northern working class have been written and conducted by members of the middle class Therefore general notions about the working class are often arrived at by following track of what the middle class thinks of it According to Ian Christie British cinema s most successful genre of the 90s was the tragicomedy of urban survival Particularly northern film always aroused certain expectations and was often a site for debating serious moral economic and social issues Along with films such as Trainspotting Danny Boyle 1996 and The Full Monty Peter Cattaneo 1997 the movie Brassed Off Mark Herman 1996 certainly belongs into this genre of northern tragi comedy It is a Channel Four film production which made use of a popular format with two or three star names and a host of British character actors and is situated at a moment of closure of one of the Yorkshire coalfields Interestingly Brassed Off is set in 1992 but was in fact produced in 1996 and one might argue that some extra sharpness might have been acquired if the script had been made in the 1980s when the industrial north was truly in the grip of recession and that Brassed Off is almost a period piece Bromley states that Brassed Off s works within a number of staple and formulaic conventions of workingclass representation regional masculine industrial brass band The
