Dead Men Talk:

Dead Men Talking Donna Denise Hunter, 2000 Dance of the Deadmen Hap Wilson, 2019 Self styled arctic outdoorsman John Hornby had already compromised his abilities to survive in the tundra through several incidents of near starvation and by injuries suffered as a soldier in World War I He had openly admitted to peers that he had had enough of the north and wished he had never come Yet foolishly he conscripted his young cousin nineteen year old Edgar Christian and a willing third party twenty nine year old Harold Adlard both having no survival training or outdoor experience to join him on an adventure into the most isolated part of the Canadian northland the Thelon River in the Northwest Territories This is a story about the tragic Hornby expedition of 1926 One of Canada s most legendary stories the reader embarks on a journey as if they were there with Hornby and his two charges Wilson adds dialogue to the events that unfold using excerpts from Edgar s surviving diary Not sparing any detail the author applies his own vast knowledge of winter survival to events that led the three to disaster in a land that shows no mercy to the ill prepared Wilson bravely delves into the psychology of men in isolation when deprived of hope but not of love Jesus the Forgiving Victim: Listening to the Unheard Voice James Alison, 2026-02-01 In Jesus the Forgiving Victim priest theologian James Alison offers a journey into the Christian Faith suitable for individual readers and group sharing While much catechetical material is either informative or lays down what must be believed the inductive method insisted on by Pope Francis and used here invites readers or course participants into the inside of a rich and penetrating mystery God who does not demand sacrifice but offers a love far greater than any of us knows One which empowers us to shift from a way of being together that creates victims to one received peacefully from the Risen Lord Alison uses the anthropological insights of Ren Girard to allow the most traditional doctrines to come alive as you explore a human story where death no longer has the final say and every outsider is welcomed home Through the eyes of the Risen and Forgiving Victim learn to see yourself your neighbour and the world in a startlingly new and deeply liberating light While obviously Catholic in content and methodology this work has been widely used ecumenically without causing scandal NOTE ON THE NEW EDITION This is the new consolidated single volume revised second edition of James Alison s classic work The present 2026 edition has been typeset to fit the complete unabridged text into 364 pages This reduction in bulk makes the book significantly lighter more portable and more accessible for study groups whether via an open access version available from www.aliosventos.com an e book or a paperback without omitting a single word of the original content Finally the hardcover edition features premium colour printing making it the definitive collector s piece for any theological library James Alison London 1959 is a Catholic Theologian and Priest He had the privilege of studying theology under great Dominican and Jesuit teachers in both Europe and Latin America His life s work has been exploring the fecundity for theology of the insight concerning desire and violence of Ren Girard Avignon 1923 Palo Alto 2015 Here he shares the paradigm shift that thought offers as an inductive entry into Christian Faith for adults James Alison belongs on any short list of the most important living Catholic theologians America the National Catholic Review I can't think of another theologian today who has me reaching so often to underline a quotable passage Commonweal Magazine There are very few books that I would say I have found life changing but this is one Matt Verified Purchase Review Alison challenges long term presumptions with humor and insight John Alden Tagliarini Reader Review
