Doris Lessing Reader The:

The Doris Lessing Reader Doris Lessing, 1989 This reader has been assembled by Doris Lessing herself and it provides a representative introduction to both her fiction and non fiction The book enables the reader to see her ideas evolve over the years as they recur and develop throughout her work The Doris Lessing Reader Doris May Lessing, 1991 The Doris Lessing Reader Doris Lessing, 1990-09-11 Doris Lessing Susan Watkins, 2013-07-19 This study examines the writing career of the respected and prolific novelist Doris Lessing who was awarded the Nobel Prize for Literature in 2007 and has recently published what she has announced will be her final novel Whereas earlier assessments have focused on Lessing's relationship with feminism and the impact of her 1962 novel The Golden Notebook this book argues that Lessing's writing was formed by her experiences of the colonial encounter it makes use of postcolonial theory and criticism to examine Lessing's continued interest in ideas of nation empire gender and race and the connections between them The book examines the entire range of her writing including her most recent fiction and non fiction which have been comparatively neglected The book is aimed at undergraduate and postgraduate students of Doris Lessing's work as well as the general reader who enjoys her writing This is the first significant book length critical evaluation in ten years Conversations Doris Lessing, 1994 In these twenty four interviews spanning several decades Doris Lessing talks frankly to a variety of interviewers among them Joyce Carol Oates and Studs Terkel about such subjects as her early years in Rhodesia her involvement in Marxism and Sufism her views on feminism and her own fiction especially The golden notebook Notebooks/Memoirs/Archives Jenny Taylor, 2019-10-01 Since The Grass is Singing was published in 1950 Doris Lessing has commanded a widespread and heterogeneous readership Written from a feminist political perspective and employing diverse modes of critical analysis the present volume originally published in 1982 aims to combine detailed technical exploration of Lessing's work with a sense of this extraordinary writer's historical political and personal development The essays placed in political and biographical context by the editor's introduction span the entire length of Lessing's career up to Canopus in Argos and includes studies of A Man and Two Women The Golden Notebook and The Children of Violence as well as an interview with David Gladwell director of Memoirs of a Survivor Doris Lessing Alice Ridout, Susan Watkins, 2009-08-13 Despite winning the Nobel Prize for Literature Doris Lessing has received relatively little critical attention One of the reasons for this is that Lessing has spent much of her lifetime and her long published writing career crossing both national and ideological borders This essay collection reflects and explores the incredible variety of Lessing's border crossings and positions her writing in its various social and cultural contexts Lessing crosses literal national borders in her life and work but more controversial have been her crossings of genre borders into sci fi and space fiction and her crossing of ideological borders such as moving into and out of the Communist Party and from a colonial into a post colonial world This timely collection also considers a number of the most interesting recent critical and theoretical approaches to Lessing's writing including work on maternity and abjection in relation to The Fifth Child and The Grass is Singing eco criticism in Lessing's African novels and postcolonial re-writings of landscape in her African Stories

Doris Lessing Susan Watkins, 2011-02-15 This study examines the writing career of the respected and prolific novelist Doris Lessing who was awarded the Nobel Prize for Literature in 2007 and has recently published what she has announced will be her final novel Whereas earlier assessments have focused on Lessing's relationship with feminism and the impact of her 1962 novel The Golden Notebook this book argues that Lessing's writing was formed by her experiences of the colonial encounter it makes use of postcolonial theory and criticism to examine Lessing's continued interest in ideas of nation empire gender and race and the connections between them The book examines the entire range of her writing including her most recent fiction and non-fiction which have been comparatively neglected The book is aimed at undergraduate and postgraduate students of Doris Lessing's work as well as the general reader who enjoys her writing This is the first significant book-length critical evaluation in ten years

A Reader's Companion to the Short Story in English Erin Fallon, R.C. Feddersen, James Kurtzleben, Maurice A. Lee, Susan Rochette-Crawley, 2013-10-31 Although the short story has existed in various forms for centuries it has particularly flourished during the last hundred years Reader's Companion to the Short Story in English includes alphabetically arranged entries for 50 English language short story writers from around the world Most of these writers have been active since 1960 and they reflect a wide range of experiences and perspectives in their works Each entry is written by an expert contributor and includes biography a review of existing criticism a lengthier analysis of specific works and a selected bibliography of primary and secondary sources The volume begins with a detailed introduction to the short story genre and concludes with an annotated bibliography of major works on short story theory
