Dropped Threads:

Dropped Threads 2 Carol Shields, Marjorie Anderson, 2003-04-08 The idea for Dropped Threads What We Aren't Told came up between Carol Shields and longtime friend Marjorie Anderson over lunch. It appeared that after decades of feminism the women's network still wasn't able to prevent women being caught off guard by life. There remained subjects women just didn't talk about or felt they couldn't talk about. Holes existed in the fabric of women's discourse and they needed examining. They asked thirty-four women to write about moments in life that had taken them by surprise or experiences that received too little discussion and then they compiled these pieces into a book. It became an instant number one bestseller, a book club favourite and a runaway success. Dropped Threads says Anderson tapped into a powerful need to share personal stories about life's defining moments of surprise and silence. Readers recognized themselves in these honest and intimate stories; there was something universal in these deeply personal accounts. Other stories and suggestions poured in. Dropped Threads would clearly be an ongoing project. Like the first volume, Dropped Threads 2 features stories by well-known novelists and journalists such as Jane Urquhart, Susan Swan, and Shelagh Rogers, but also many excellent new writers including teachers, mothers, a civil servant, a therapist. This triumphant follow-up received a starred first review in Quill and Quire magazine which called it compassionate and unflinching. The book deals with such difficult topics as loss, depression, disease, widowhood, violence, and coming to terms with death. Several stories address some of the darker sides of motherhood. A mother describes how, while sleep-deprived and in a miserable marriage, she is shocked to find infanticide crossing her mind. Another woman recounts a memory of her alcoholic mother demanding the children prove their loyalty in a terrifying way. A woman desperate for children refers to the bleak truth as 'Another Christmas of feeling barren'. Narrating the fertility treatment she undergoes, she hopes dashed, she is amusing in retrospect and yet brutally honest. While they deal with loss and trauma, the pieces show the path to some kind of acceptance, showing the authors' determination to learn from pain and pass on the wisdom gained. The volume also covers the rewards of learning to be a parent, choosing to remain single, or fitting in as a lesbian parent. It explores how women feel when something is missing in a friendship, how they experience discrimination, relationship challenges, and other emotions less easily defined but just as close to the bone. Alison Wearing, in 'My Life as a Shadow', subtly describes allowing her personality to be subsumed by her boyfriend's. Pamela Mala Sinha tells how, after suffering a brutal attack, she felt self-hatred and a longing for retribution. Dana McNairn talks of her uncomfortable marriage to a man from a different social background: 'I wanted to fit in with this strange, wondrous family who never raised their voices, never swore, and never threw things at one another.' Humour, a confiding tone, and beautiful writing elevate and enliven even the darkest stories. Details bring scenes vividly to life so we feel we are in the room with Barbara Defago when the doctor tells her she has breast cancer, coolly dividing her life into a 'before' and 'after'. Lucid, reflective, and poignant, Dropped Threads 2 is for anyone interested in women's true stories.

Guided Reflection Christopher Johns,2011-06-13 an important text for practitioners this text is a valuable tool that develops self inquiry skills Journal of Advanced Nursing Reflection is widely recognised as an invaluable tool in health care providing fresh insights which enable practitioners to develop their own practice and improve the quality of their care Guided Reflection A Narrative Approach to Advancing Professional Practice introduces the practitioner to the concept of guided reflection in which the practitioner is assisted by a mentor or guide in a process of self enquiry development and learning through reflection in order to effectively realise one's vision of practice and self as a lived reality. Guided reflection is grounded in individual practice and can provide deeply meaningful insights into self-development and professional care. The process results in a reflexive narrative which highlights key issues for enhancing healthcare practice and professional care. Reflection: A Narrative Approach to Advancing Professional Practice uses a collection of such narratives from everyday clinical practice to demonstrate the theory and practicalities of guided reflection and narrative construction. In this second edition, Chris Johns has explored many of the existing narratives in more depth. Many new contributions have been added, including several more innovative reflections such as performance and art. These narratives portray the values inherent in caring, highlight key issues in clinical practice, reveal the factors that constrain the quest to realise practice, and examine the ways practitioners work towards overcoming these constraints.
