Anders Nygren:

The Philosophy and Theology of Anders Nygren Charles William Kegley, 1970 Anders Nygren has for years been recognized as a leading contemporary theologian His major work Agape and Eros has become a classic of theological research And though he has been comparatively little known in this country these critical essays which scrutinize Professor Nygren's philosophical and theological theses on such subjects as motif research meanings of love systematic theology and philosophy of religion attest to the importance given to his work by scholars and theologians throughout the world The illumination given Nygren's thought by this close examination is further enhanced by his Intellectual Autobiography and by his Reply to Interpreters and Critics a commentary and defense in response to the essays written by Professor Nygren for this volume In addition the volume includes a complete bibliography of Nygren's publications covering his entire career and listing all translations of his works

Anders Nygren's Religious Apriori Anders Nygren, 2000 Kierkegaard's Influence on Theology: Anglophone and Scandinavian Protestant theology Jon Bartley Stewart, 2012 Tome II is dedicated to tracing Kierkegaard's influence in Anglophone and Scandinavian Protestant religious thought In Britain before World War I the few literati who were familiar with his work tended to assimilate Kierkegaard to the heroic individualism of Ibsen and Nietzsche In the United States knowledge of Kierkegaard was introduced by Scandinavian immigrants who brought with them a picture of the Dane as much more sympathetic to traditional Christianity The interpretation of Kierkegaard in Britain and America during the early and mid twentieth century generally reflected the sensibilities of the particular theological interpreter Anglican theologians tended to find Kierkegaard to be one sided in his critique of reason and culture while theologians hailing from the Reformed tradition often saw him as an insightful harbinger of neo orthodoxy The second part of Tome II is dedicated to the Kierkegaard reception in Scandinavian theology featuring articles on Norwegian and Swedish theologians influenced by Kierkegaard

The Study of Science and Religion Carl Reinhold Brakenhielm, 2018-06-06 The main aim of this book is to contribute to the relationship between science and religion This book aims to do constructive theological work out of a particular cultural context The point of departure is contemporary Swedish religion and worldviews One focus is the process of biologization i e how the worldviews of the general public in Sweden are shaped by biological science Is there a gap between Swedes in general and the perceptions of Swedish clergy The answer is based on sociological studies on science and religion in Sweden and the United States Furthermore the book contains a study of Swedish theologians from Nathan Soderblom to the present Archbishop Antje Jackelen and their shifting understanding of the relation between science and religion The philosophical aspects of this relation are given special consideration What models of the relation inform the contemporary scholarly discussion Are science and religion in conflict separate or in mutual creative interaction

Are Eros and Agape fundamentally different kinds of love?
Céline Sun, 2018-11-29 Seminar paper from the year 2018 in the subject Theology Systematic Theology grade 1 7 University of Cambridge Faculty of Divinity course Paper Doctrine of God Love and Desire language English abstract Are Eros and Agape fundamentally different kinds of love Throughout the history of Christianity theologians have struggled with the relation between these two forms of love This relation has been interpreted very differently with regard to questions such as Is there a conceptual primacy of one over the other or should they be regarded as equally standing next to each other How is the prevalence of the two forces to be balanced And most importantly given the indisputable differences between the two how can they be mediated in the encounter between the Divine and the human On one side of the extreme a fundamental separation between them is postulated with Agape attributed to God only and Eros relegated to the human sphere Such a separation was popularized by the Swedish theologian Anders Nygren He strongly rejects the Neo Platonic influence on Christianity which puts at its centre the human striving towards the Divine through Eros in hopes of designing a purified superior Christian doctrine Texts by Richard of St Victor and Catherine of Siena who stand within the Neoplatonic and Mystic traditions of Christianity argue that it is the balanced incorporation of the idea of Eros as opposed to its full rejection which enables an understanding of a reciprocal loving relationship by making room for human activity in building it This understanding is shown to be reasonable within the context of modern theology by laying the foundations for a conceptual re interpretation of the doctrine of creation and incarnation which enables a fundamental realignment of the relation between Eros and Agape

Dynamics of Difference Ulrich Schmiedel, James Matarazzo, 2015-02-26 This Festschrift in honour of Werner G Jeanrond currently Master of St Benet s Hall University of Oxford UK investigates the challenge of alterity for Christianity exploring and elaborating on this core concern in Jeanrond s hermeneutical theology Blurring disciplinary boundaries more than thirty of Jeanrond s colleagues and companions from ten countries track the dynamics of difference driven by the encounter with the self as other the other as other and God as the radical other Who is my other What do I encounter when I encounter my other And what responses and responsibilities does the encounter with my other evoke Grappling with questions like these the contributions to this compilation analyse alterity in the Bible alterity in philosophy alterity in theology alterity in interreligious dialogues and the radical alterity of God Tying in with Jeanrond s explorations of the many faces and facets of the other this Festschrift ultimately aims to advocate openness to the other as a necessity for both religion and reflections on religion
