Commonwealth ,1962 Muslims' Place in the American Public Square Zahid H. Bukhari,2004-05-17 Once a year Muslims from around the world representing a vast range of ethnicities incomes ages and attitudes perform the Hajj pilgrimage and converge in the holy city of Mecca in Saudi Arabia Now the global diversity of Muslims at the Hajj is almost replicated in the United States new immigrants Muslims whose families have been here for generations and converts are coming together seeing what unites them and what issues they face together Project MAPS Muslims in the American Public Square began in 1999 to provide much needed information on this understudied and immensely diverse group of six million Americans This first volume emerging from the project Muslims Place in the American Public Square shows where the American Muslim community fits into the American religious and civic landscape both before and after 9 11 Renowned scholars contribute theoretical legal historical and sociological perspectives on how Muslims function in both their own institutions and others For classes in religion or the social sciences or for anyone interested in this increasingly significant community Muslims Place in the American Public Square provides a current balanced introduction Cultural Studies Review Chris Healy and Stephen Muecke (eds),2008-03-01 Thinking and writing about the past challenging what history might be and how it could appear is an ongoing interest of this journal and an ongoing sometimes contentious point of connection between cultural studies and history The shifts in how we research and write the past is no simple story of accepted breakthroughs that have become the new norms nor is it a story where it is easy to identify what the effects of cultural studies thinking on the discipline of history has been History has provided its own challenges to its own practices in a very robust way while the cultural studies has challenged what the past is and how it might be rendered from a wide ranging set of ideas and modes of representation that have less to do with specific disciplinary arguments than responses to particular modes textual filmic sonic particular sites nations Indigenous temporalities sexuality literature gender and perhaps a greater willingness to accentuate the political in the historical The I.B.
