Custom Published Communication Processes Language Reality Identity:

Multilingualism, Nationhood, and Cultural Identity Willem Frijhoff, Marie-Christine Kok Escalle, Karène Sanchez Summerer, 2025-10-01 Before the modern nation state became a stable widespread phenomenon throughout northern Europe multilingualism the use of multiple languages in one geographical area was common throughout the region This book brings together historians and linguists who apply their respective analytic tools to offer an interdisciplinary interpretation of the functions of multilingualism in identity building in the period and from that draw valuable lessons for understanding today's cosmopolitan societies

Language, Identity and Conflict Diarmait Mac Giolla Chríost, 2004-03 This book comprises a comparative study of relationships between language and ethnic identity in key regions of historical and contemporary ethnic conflict in Europe and Eurasia

A Roadmap to Intercultural Proficiency Frauke Bender, 2022-06-17 This book describes the linkage between the worlds of culture and inclusion based on the concept of intercultural proficiency IP It explains the building blocks of intercultural proficiency by providing a conceptual framework that combines and structures the existing knowledge base and extends it by incorporating the author's own empirical research work The framework presents not only a comprehensive and universal model based on existing concepts but also implications for learning and teaching strategies This book and the IP concept provide guidance for students early working professionals as well as seasoned working professionals on how to thrive and succeed when interacting with different cultures It allows us to think outside our narrow cultural boundaries and decode complex cross cultural interactions Thus the IP approach can be applied in academic and corporate settings as it facilitates potential for solution of the issues associated with multicultural workforces and global operations of organizations

Roots of Identity Linda King, 1994 Despite over 50 years of literacy training by the Mexican government the National Census records an illiteracy rate of over 70 percent in most Indian communities This book attempts to discover why so many Indians are illiterate today despite an indigenous literary tradition that dates back to the pre Conquest period The author sees language as the main factor explaining the high illiteracy rate in the Indian regions Although alphabets have been created for most of Mexico's indigenous languages there is no longer a literate tradition in the languages themselves and writing is intrinsically associated with the official and dominant language Spanish Indians continue to reproduce their group identity through the maintenance of linguistic and cultural boundaries How these boundaries have been built over time and how they continue to be maintained throughout the 20th century form the substance of this book

Identity, Nationhood and Bangladesh Independent Cinema Fahmidul Haq, Brian Shoemith, 2022-07-08 This book analyses how independent filmmakers from Bangladesh have represented national identity in their films The focus of this book is on independent and art house filmmakers and how cinema plays a vital role in constructing national and cultural identity The authors examine post 2000 films which predominantly deal with issues of national identity and demonstrate how they tackle questions of national identity Bangladesh is seemingly a homogenous country consisting 98% of Bengali and 90% of Muslim This majority group has two dominant identities Bengaliness the ethno linguistic identity and Muslimness the religious identity Bengaliness is perceived as secular modern whereas Muslimness is perceived as traditional and conservative However Bangladeshi independent and art house filmmakers portray the nationhood of the country with an enthusiasm and liveliness that exceeds these two categories In addition to these categories the authors add two more dimensions to the approach to discuss identity Popular Religion and Transformation The study argues that these identity categories are represented in the films and that they both reproduce and challenge dominant discourses of nationalism Providing a new addition to the discourse of contemporary national identity the book will be of interest to researchers studying international film and media studies independent cinema studies Asian cinema and South Asian culture politics and identity politics
